

Selling Stuff

How do I sell something in the vending machine?

Email vending@notoriousled.com and tell us what you want to sell. Please attach a photo, too.

What percentage of the money goes to me?

The State of Alabama will take the usual 4% sales tax. Madison County will take 1.5%, since the machine is only in the county, not in Huntsville (believe it or not). You will receive the other 94.5%.

As an example, if your widgets are priced at $5, and someone buys two widgets, then we will owe you $9.45.

Wait, shouldn't I be charging you sales tax?

No; from a legal standpoint, we are reselling your product, so when you give us the product, you shouldn't charge us sales tax. In the state of Alabama, resellers don't pay their vendors sales tax for the business-to-business transaction. See this TaxJar article for details.

Can you pay for all of my products when I give them to you?

No, sorry. We're not making any money so we can't really afford to front the cost like that.

When do I get the money from the sales of my stuff?

Monthly, when we stop by the machine to check on it and restock.

How will you send me the money?

You can pick from any of these. (Try to stay close to the top of the list, if possible.)

- You send us an invoice via Square (or whatever payment platform you already use)
 - If you accept both ACH (Automated Clearing House; "direct deposit") and credit cards, we will pay with whichever results in the lowest payment fee.
- We hand you a check
 - Or, preferably slide it under your studio door at Lowe Mill, if you have one of those
- We hand you cash

Suggestions are welcome, but notably, the following options are not available.

- We send you money using PayPal Friends and Family
- We send money to a non-business Cash App account
- We mail you anything
